now touring this country and their opinion of

The Metrostyle Pianola

JUST NOW there is in this country a notable galaxy of famous European musicians who are giving concerts in different cities. It is unusual for great artists of this caliber to agree upon questions relating to music and musical art. It is therefore most impressive to note that they are absolutely unanimous in the matter of the artistic importance of the Metrostyle Pianola. The following are extracts from letters written by some of these eminent musicians now en tour in the United States, and all of them are expressions from persons who were originally prejudiced against any means of producing music from the piano other than by the human fingers:

Josef Hofmann:

I promised to write you my critical opinion of the Pianola after I had time and opportunity to thoroughly test it. I find that your instrument is designed for reproducing piano-literature and offers facilities for expression that will enable an intelligent player to give a very close imitation of hand-playing. I have been surprised to discover to what an extent one can, with a little practice, control the dynamic effects. I think what has impressed me as much as anything is the ease with which the instrument is played. It is simplicity itself. It is my opinion that in all essentials of artistic piano-playing the Pianola is the best instru-

Vladimir de Pachmann:

What a wonderful instrument! I have heard many piano playing attachments, but the Pianola is the only one which can be considered really musical. None but a great artist could play with such delicacy or power.

Johanna Gadski:

I was to day for the first time accompanied by the Fianola, and I hasten to tell you of my satisfaction and pleasure at the satisfactory and delightful support which it gave me in the extremely difficult and trying numbers which I sang. No accompaniment could be more perfect and more satisfying.

I wish you great success.

I. J. Paderewski:

It is astonishing to see this little device at work executing the masterpieces of pianoforte literature with a dexterity, clearness, and velocity which no player, however great, can approach. Every one who wishes to hear absolutely faultless, free of every kind of nervousness piano playing, should buy your Pianola. It is perfection.

Anton Hekking:

Your latest instrument, the Metrostyle-Pianola, was played for me recently, and if anything could be more wonderful than the playing of the instrument, it is this new invention (the Metrostyle). A device which will preserve interpretations of great artists as this does cannot be adequately described or valued. It is of great importance to the art of pianoforte playing. I wish you and it well deserved success.

Fritz Kreisler:

I would like to own several piano-playing machines for curiosity, but I would play only the Pianola, as that is far superior to all of them from every point of view. The execution and expression one can produce in piano playing by means of the Pianola is marvelous and the Metrostyle enables one to play in the exact tempos interpreted by great planists. I do not see how any piano-playing attachment can be considered complete without the Metrostyle.

So many of the world's musical authorities have insisted upon the extreme Importance of the Metrostyle that it has now been incorporated in All Pianolas. Prices $250 and $300. Purchasable on moderate monthly payments.
